

Simple CSS Box Design to Create Web template page - by Robert Berdan

This layout is made up of a top #header box, #navigation box, #body box, #footer box and then a news box inside the body - #body #news – and uses id elements which are unique. See code below.

compete in today's technology driven society. For many businesses a web site has become an essential marketing tool. Web sites are being used to sell products and services, display color catalogs, educate your customers, recruit new customers and new employees. The world wide web now exceeds 500 million and is expected to reach 1 Billion in 2004 - this is a vast market that is still growing exponentially.
